

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CANODYNE CBD

What is Canodyne?

Canodyne is a brand of clinically driven, hemp derived CBD products that are only available through Health Care Professionals. The Canodyne platform is designed to meet the therapeutic needs of patients, while providing an alternative ancillary channel for our Health Care partners.

Why should I recommend Canodyne to my patients?

Canodyne's line of unique products are manufactured and produced in a CGMP FDA registered and audited facility. Canodyne products are highly concentrated, with THC Free CBD that is third party tested for both concentration and purity. Our pain products are made with FDA monographed active ingredients, Menthol and Camphor.

What is CBD?

CBD (Cannabidiol) is one of over 120 organic chemical compounds found in the Cannabis plant. CBD is the dominant cannabinoid found in hemp, which US law defines as having 0.3% or less delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinoid (THC) content by dry weight.

What is CBD Isolate?

CBD Isolate starts out as a full spectrum (whole plant) extract and goes through an additional process to remove trace amounts of THC. Canodyne is made with 100% THC Free Isolate that is Non-Euphoric, Non-Toxic, and Non-Habit Forming.

What is the Endocannabinoid System (ECS)?

The ECS is a vast network of enzymes and receptor sites that are designed to absorb cannabinoids at the cellular level. CBD is believed to produce its therapeutic effect by interacting with the ECS. The ECS is responsible for maintaining balance across various bodily functions which include memory, immune response, inflammation, and pain modulation.

Where is the hemp in Canodyne grown?

The hemp used in Canodyne is organic, non GMO, and grown in the USA.

Where is Canodyne manufactured?

Canodyne products are manufactured in a CGMP FDA registered facility in Chicago, IL.

Is hemp legal?

Yes. President Trump signed the Agricultural Improvement Act of 2018 (Farm Bill) into law on December 20, 2018. Among the 2018 Farm Bill's broad-ranging provisions, it legalizes the cultivation and sale of hemp at the federal level, effective January 1, 2019.
